

Let your light shine

Spreadin' by Servin'Spirit

Hey folks, there is a truth I wanna share, cause far too long, I did not care.
Cause far too long, I felt ashamed, was playing their silly game.

The name of the game is take the blame.
By doing that, I killed my flame.
But like that I am, it still burns.
And makes me feel a certain yearn.

And it goes...

Let your light shine, baby, and you will see that it's fun to be free.
Let your light shine, baby, and you will see
that they run, they will flee.
Let your light shine, baby, and you will feel
so much love, let it be.
Let your light shine, baby, and you will feel
it is fun, to be free.

So if this sounds familiar to you,
there is something that you might do.
Just trust yourself, don't hesitate and be assured, it's not too late.

And if you fear that you're not worth,
just take a breath, give room for birth.
Cause lovely friend, here is good news:
What you long for, is inside you.

So would you please...

Let your light shine, baby, and you will see
it is fun to be free.
Let your light shine, baby, and you will see
that they run, they will flee.
Let your light shine, baby, and you will feel
so much love, let it be.
Let your light shine, baby, and you will feel
it is fun, to be free.